Corporate Patrons Programme

Te Puna Foundation supports the National Library of New Zealand

“Preserving the Nation’s Memory”

The National Library of New Zealand Te Puna Mātauranga o Aotearoa collects, preserves and protects New Zealand’s documentary heritage. The nation’s heritage collections include books, music, photography, video, manuscripts, digital content, newspapers, ephemera, thousands of artefacts and the nation’s largest art collection.

Te Puna Foundation Goals

Te Puna Foundation is seeking funds to support the National library to:

- provide engaging and inspiring education programs
- collect, preserve and make collections available to all
- promote the importance and joy of reading
- host unique exhibitions and events

Partnership

A crucial part to achieving Te Puna Foundation’s goals is partnership with the corporate community.

Your commitment to an annual gift will enable us to deliver on our vision to share more of our precious taonga with New Zealanders.

Our Thank You

In appreciation for their generosity, corporate patrons will have an opportunity to receive special benefits as well as exclusive access to the National library for executives, their clients and staff.

“White Glove” tours behind the scenes of the collections or the opportunity to entertain clients within the National Library unique spaces are a couple of the experiences on offer.

Gift now and help keep our heritage alive
